Disclaimer

- A Personal Mentor is under no obligation to enroll a student in a service at Curious Kids Can.
- At Curious Kids Can, a Personal Mentor endeavours to nurture and strengthen individual students' emotional intelligence so they can experience personal success and become confident and competent lifelong learners.

As there are no quantitative measures with emotional intelligence, a Personal Mentor is unable to guarantee that an individual student will experience personal success and become a confident and competent lifelong learner whilst attending Curious Kids Can.

- A Personal Mentor is only responsible for the duty of care of the student enrolled in a service at Curious Kids Can. Siblings are the sole responsibility of their parent/s.
- In the event of any child damaging or destroying property at Curious Kids Can, the parent/s are liable for the replacement or reimbursement of the damaged or destroyed property.
- In the event of a parent/s and/or student intimidating and/or destructively criticizing a Personal Mentor's professionalism and/or quality of service during the term of their program at Curious Kids Can, The Principal Mentor and Proprietor of Curious Kids Can, is able to terminate their program, effective immediately, without remuneration.
- A Personal Mentor is under no obligation to renew a student's program at Curious Kids Can.
